Dear Andy and Matthew,

Well, here are the children's letters! I thought I'd pop in a few of their housing development designs for you to see.

It really was such a delight to have you both here this afternoon to talk to the children and answer their questions. It has made it feel like a proper 'real world' project to have your presence and encouragement.

We still have a little more learning to do this week to consolidate our ideas - creating a 'mood board' so that children can select materials and styles for exterior & interior designs; also having the chance to present their designs & evaluations to the class. We love a bit of role play... I might take on the role of chairman of the planning committee 😊.

Kind regards & warmest thanks,

Holly Williams & Beech class
